GOV. JOHNSON OUTLINES POLICY AND NEEDS OF STATE IN HIS MESSAGE

SEES PROBLEM IN REVENUE FOR STATE

Advises Legislature of Need of Immediate Action on Revenue Matter

ENDORSES 'BLUE SKY' LAW FLAYS INSURANCE GREED

Urges Equalization of Taxes, Inheritance Tax and Prison Reform

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—In Gov. Johnson's message transmitted to the legislature which opened today, he sees a serious and immediate problem in making provision for revenue for the next biennial period, a problem which demands immediate action.

The greater part of the message deals with enactments supplementary or amendatory to the legislation of recent sessions. It heartily endorses the "Blue Sky" law protecting against wild-catting. The Governor advocates an administrative commission with supervision over state institutions, superseding the governing boards of many institutions and also urges an industrial accident law and a state insurance fund. He flays the rapacity of insurance companies. He declares the California State University should be brought closer to the average citizen, and also advocates prison reform, steering between "harshness and mawkish sentimentality."

A provision for the enlargement of crowded insane asylums is urged, as well as flood control for inland waterways. An enabling act for the free distribution of text books and the enlargement of the work of the horticultural commission are urged.

Gov. Johnson declares the small property holder is paying proportionately greater taxes than the public service corporations. He urges the equalization of taxes and an increase of the inheritance tax with better provision for their collection.

Regarding the industrial act and legislation for state insurance the message said: "I strongly urge that if the industrial law is to continue as a state policy that you adopt means to establish a state insurance fund."

He declared emphatically that exemption of farmers from the employers' liability would be a "distinct step backward." Scoring insurance companies, it said: "One of the chief state difficulties is the rapacity of insurance companies. In this sort of greed they have overreached themselves and have hastened the necessity for a state insurance law."

The message declares that the fundamental ideas of humanity and decency of government, like the necessity of keeping the government responsible to the people, should be instilled by the State University into future citizens, along with hostility to cajolery and bribery of public officials, as these future citizens must take up the burden and perpetuation of the nation.

Referring to the State Board of Medical Examiners, Governor Johnson states he assumes the legislature will deal with the formation of the new board, and remodel present law. "Because of this assumption," he says, "I have not attempted any change in the board itself. I should have done so but desired to await your action. If in your wisdom you do not see fit to act, I shall, through appointments, undertake to remodel the board."

The Governor proclaims himself in accord with the State Highway Commission plan to derive revenue through a motor vehicle tax for the maintenance of the state roads. Referring to certain bankers' attitude toward the proposed monetary measure and strict supervision over financial institutions, the Governor states that influences have been kept busy attempting to have officials "forget certain provisions of the present law. If bankers because of the enforcement of law, then the law must be changed, not the attitude of the superintendent of banks toward the law." He adds his approval to amendments to be proposed by the superintendent of banks.

He suggests that the legislature follow the recommendations of the new immigration commission regarding the handling of immigrants following the opening of the Panama canal, for preventing congestion and over-crowding.

Legislature Opens Fortieth Session Young for Speaker

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—California's fortieth legislature convened today, the senate meeting at 12:22, the assembly at 12:52. Nearly all of the 120 members of the upper and lower houses of the legislature were already in Sacramento.

C. C. Young of Berkeley will be speaker of the assembly, as W. A. Sutherland of Fresno, H. Stanley Benedict of Los Angeles, and L. D. Bohnett of San Jose, today agreed to withdraw in favor of Young in order to keep harmony among the Progressives.

Progressive caucus nominated Young as speaker, W. A. Johnson of Los Angeles as speaker pro tem and Frank Baker as chaplain. These were confirmed by the assembly. The Democratic caucus named J. W. Stuckenbruck of Acampo as the speakership candidate. A. E. Boynton, Republican, was elected president of the senate pro tem over Curtin, Democrat.

Divided Session

The legislature will be governed by the new constitutional amendment requiring a divided session. Not more than thirty days following the beginning of the session, a recess must be taken for at least thirty days. On re-assembling, no member of either house may introduce a bill without consent of three-fourths of its members, and, in any case no member may introduce more than two bills, in the second part of the bifurcated session.

The object of this dividing the session is to induce early introduction of nearly all bills and allow time for general decision of such measures during the long recess also to enable important committees to do their work without the delays and embarrassments of attendance in sessions of the legislature.

OIL SECTIONS ARE MENAGED

Seepage May Ruin Oil Fields of State—Protective Law
Is Being Planned

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—That every oil field in California is in danger of being seriously impaired, if not ruined, by the seepage of water, and that protective legislation is necessary, is the belief of Assemblyman W. A. Sutherland of Fresno, who is drafting a bill for presentation to the legislature. Sutherland has held several conferences with oil men in the district near his home.

According to the assemblyman, the Kern field has suffered more than others, but even the newer fields are affected. Water seeping from one well, he declares, can injure an entire field.

Sutherland's bill will propose the creation of oil land protective districts which can assess property under a plan similar to that of reclamation districts. Experts then could be employed to take the matter under consideration.

"BOSTONIANS PAGAN," SAYS FATHER LYONS

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—"Bostonsians have returned to paganism and instead of following the puritanical ways of old by remaining at home, and praying silently to usher in a new year, they flocked to Boston Common and there sang 'Sweet Adeline' and similar songs," said Father P. J. Lyons in addressing his parishioners yesterday.

GEORGE ADE FALLS ON ICY SIDEWALK—SLIGHT CONCUSSION OF BRAIN

ROCKIES, MIDDLE AND NORTHWEST FREEZING

31 Below in Denver; Colorado and Wyoming Average 10
Below—Wires Clogged

MIDDLE WEST GRIPPED BY ICY WINTER WEATHER

Northwest Has Arctic Climate,
Cold Prevailing on Both
Land and Water

DENVER, Jan. 6.—The temperature was 31 below zero on the streets here at 3 o'clock this morning, and 18 below at 6 o'clock. Colorado and Wyoming will average 10 below zero. A blizzard is wrecking telegraph and telephone communication.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Winter, as the term is understood in the Great Lakes region, already more than three months overdue, made another and more successful attempt last Saturday night and yesterday to fasten itself upon the Middle West and the Ohio Valley. The deadly cold originating in Western Canada, where sixteen degrees below zero prevails over the country. It reached Chicago in the form of a blizzard, which later turned to rain and still later to a heavy sleet, which covered the Mississippi Valley, accompanied by falling of the temperature. The sleet has badly hampered steam and electric railway service.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and all northern states report icy gales, below zero weather and growing colder.

In this city charitable organizations found themselves swamped by appeals for aid early yesterday, winter finding more than the usual number of persons unprepared. There is much suffering in the tenement districts. Streets covered with ice are responsible for the crippling and death of many horses.

Danger to Winter Wheat

Grain traders are apprehensive of great damage to winter wheat. They say the fields are bare and a siege of cold weather will kill the plant. There is said to be practically no snow covering the wheat areas in four or five big states. It is also feared that the lack of snow will result in drought next summer, as the ground already is dry and hard. A hard freeze will bring to the surface what little moisture remains and it will evaporate.

INDIANA IN GRIP OF HAIL AND SLEET YESTERDAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 6.—Practically the entire state of Indiana yesterday was in the grip of a severe hail and sleet storm that interrupted street car and railroad service and made telephone and telegraph communication uncertain.

NORTHWEST PACIFIC COUNTRY SHIVERING

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 6.—Portland and the northwest are shivering in the first cold wave of the winter. Milk bottles froze solid on the doorsteps Saturday night, but last night was colder. Ice which had formed on shallow pools and lakes did not thaw yesterday, and last night it thickened. Children enjoyed sidewalk ice skating, but to grown-ups the ice under foot was not so pleasant and numerous accidents resulted. The weather bureau predicts continued fair and cold weather.

Rough weather continues off the coast, making it difficult for vessels to get in and out of Aberdeen, Wash. Yesterday morning twelve vessels were bar-bound. For a week past vessels have encountered difficulty in getting in and out of Coos Bay and none has entered Tillamook. Telegraph wires to coast points are still out of commission.

LABOR COMMISSION FILES ITS REPORT

U. S. Supreme Court Holds J.
A. Patten and Others for Trial; S. P. Plan Denied

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The state labor commission today filed its biennial report, which recommends wage claim courts, better employment bureau laws, factory inspection, labor camp inspection and other improvements for the bettering of working conditions.

COLD WAVE SWEEPS THE PACIFIC COAST

So Far Orange County Citrus Fruits Have Escaped Damage From Cold—Look
Out For To-night

WEATHER FORECAST—COLD TONIGHT

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Continued cold with killing frost. Fresh northeast winds are diminishing.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Forecaster Carpenter predicts the heaviest frost and the coldest weather of the season tonight with no relief in sight. He said:

"Only the utmost vigilance will save the citrus crop. I advise early lighting of fires. The closest attention to this applies everywhere south of the Tehachapi. The cold wave is general west of the Rockies."

REPORTS SHOW BIG DAMAGE TO THE CITRUS FRUIT CROP

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Following are the early morning temperatures from various Southern California points as given in the government report:

Pasadena, 29 degrees; Pomona, 28; Redlands, 24; Riverside, 21; San Bernardino, 26; San Diego, 28; Santa Ana, 24; Covina, 22; Fresno, 25; San Gabriel, 27; Alhambra, 25; Colton, 28; Orange, 24; Bakersfield, 22; Rialto, 30.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Cold records of twenty years for Southern California were smashed last night, following the prediction of "freezing weather" as predicted by Forecaster Ford Carpenter of the United States weather bureau, yesterday. Midnight temperatures were low and growers throughout the orange belts were hustling to protect their orchards by smudging and the flushing of irrigation ditches. Orchards were in most cases patrolled all night. The real damage will not be known until reports are more complete. The rising of a heavy wind, remnants of Saturday's blow, without doubt ameliorated the effects of the low temperatures. Wind-breaks helped to lessen wind damage in many districts.

At 7:30 this morning the government bureau reported Los Angeles' temperature as 30 degrees. The street temperature was considerably lower and ice prevailed in the gutters throughout the city. Considerable damage was done in districts close in to Los Angeles and the clear windless weather prevailing here has caused anxiety to be felt for tonight.

SAN DIEGO RECORDS FOR 66 YEARS ARE BROKEN

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 6.—Cold records for sixty-six years were broken this morning when the government thermometer registered twenty-eight degrees. It is considerably colder in the streets. Fire plugs and house water pipes are frozen. Frost is predicted for tonight.

Damage Heavy at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 6.—Although winds toward morning tempered the frost, the orange damage is heavy. The growers made a plucky fight. Even the best posted fruit men refuse to predict the per cent of damage. The stiff north wind today keeps the mercury low. If the wind ceases it is believed tonight will be the worst of the season.

Coldest in 50 Years at Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 6.—The coldest weather of the last fifty years prevails here. The mercury reached eighteen during the night.

Redlands Fears 40 Per Cent Loss

REDLANDS, Jan. 6.—Early reports from citrus growers indicate heavy frost damage. The mercury was around twenty-two twice during the night and was twenty-eight today. Many predict a forty per cent citrus loss.

Ontario Loses 20 Per Cent of Crop

ONTARIO, Jan. 6.—Twenty per cent of the citrus crop here has been damaged by frost. The wind saved the remainder of the crop. Twenty-six was the lowest temperature.

SMUDGES SAVE CROPS AT RIALTO AND HIGHLAND

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 6.—Slight frost losses to orange growers occurred at Rialto and Highland according to early reports. Rialto was the heaviest sufferer in this section, although the loss was small. Smudges saved the crops.

SANTA BARBARA LEMON LOSS
HEAVY—SKATING IS GOOD
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 6.—Heavy losses to lemons from frost are reported today. The weather was the coldest in a quarter of a century. Children are skating on an ice pond

Three Men Believed Drowned

on Coronado Islands

HAD SUFFERED TERRIBLY FROM CRUEL EXPOSURE

Other Men and Missing Ships
Believed Lost In Storms
Off Mexican Coast

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 6.—The cruiser Denver has sent a wireless dispatch that it has picked up Immigration Inspectors Jones and Kuykendall, and Engineer Gerolami on Coronado Island, where they were wrecked. They suffered terribly from exposure. Others on the missing vessels are believed to be lost.

Three Vessels Believed Wrecked
SAN DIEGO, Jan. 6.—Reports today apparently confirm the death of seven men during Saturday and Sunday storms when the launch Old Nick, the power boat Elizabeth, and an unknown schooner were lost off the Mexican coast near the national border. Federal Immigration Inspectors Gus T. Jones and Daniel Kirkendall of San Diego; Theodore Hill of San Francisco; G. Gerolami, engineer of the Elizabeth; Anton Basila, fisherman; Tim Good, engineer of the Old Nick; and a laborer known as Pete, are missing.

The three shipwrecks occurred between Imperial Beach and Point of Rocks, about fifteen miles south of San Diego. Fragments of all three vessels already have been picked up along the coast in the vicinity of Point of Rocks.

Searching parties both on land and sea have been scouring the district in an endeavor to find traces of the missing men. The unknown boat was thought to have had a crew of at least three men.

The disasters occurred in tremendous seas that broke violently on the shore.

ENVOYS MEET AND ADJOURN NO RESULT

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The peace envoys met and adjourned today without result. It is not known whether they will hold further sessions.

Turkish envoys claim they have received no further instructions regarding concessions from Constantinople. The Balkanites will presumably remain here a week to wait for possible Turkish reconsideration. Premier Danef declares that he believes the war will be resumed.

CORNERS PUT UNDER BAN

Shows Big Accomplishments in 2 Years for Bettering of Working Conditions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Declaring that corners in commodities constitute a violation of the Sherman law, the supreme court today held James A. Patten of Chicago and his associates for trial in the federal district court of New York. It is charged that Patten and his associates cornered cotton in 1910. Justices White, Lurton and Holmes dissented from today's opinion.

Does Not Approve Railroad Plan
The supreme court refused to sanction the proposed plan for the distribution of Southern Pacific stock to Union Pacific stockholders. The plan was proposed by the Harriman lines in compliance with a recent decision declaring that an illegal combination existed between the two roads.

THE NEW YEAR LOOKING GOOD

South Coast Towns Have Prosperity Ahead of Them;
Improvements Planned

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 6.—
The new year opens full of promise for all the south coast towns and beaches. Enough enterprises are now in sight to warrant the most sanguine expectations.

Preliminary work on the new $70-000 municipal pier at this place has begun. A city hall and a modern sewer system are being agitated.
Work on the new gas system will be started immediately. Ornamental street lights are being installed at all the principal corners.

Work will soon be started on a new apartment-house on the corner of Ocean avenue and Twelfth street.
The Cafeteria Company will soon begin the $10,000 cafeteria building, which is to take the place of the one burned last summer. A two-story brick grocery building will soon be built on Main street, opposite the News office.

During the early part of the year many improvements will be made by the Newport Land Company on Balboa Island, these including a pavilion.
The company plans to have a large ferryboat running between the mainland at Balboa and Balboa Island within a short time. A fine hotel is also projected.

Balboa itself will see a great deal of building before the new year is much older. Mrs. Ida H. Burns will soon start a two-story store and apartment building at the corner of Main and Center streets. Mrs. H. B.
Morehouse, who is the owner of the property directly opposite the proposed Burns building, is contemplating joining with E. J. Louis of the Newport Bay Investment Company in the erection of a two or three-story structure on the present site of the Balboa Hotel. A $2500 home will be started at once by Mr. Neimeyer.
Mrs. Leler will build a twenty-room apartment-house.

TETZLAFF PUTS ON NEW SANTA ANA RACE TRACK AUTO RECORD FOR AUTOS

Teddy Tetzlaff, one-time Orange boy, now world-famous automobile speed king, was the chief attraction at the Santa Ana race track yesterday where 2,000 people gathered in the chilly wind. Three heats of a motorcycle event, two heats between two Studebakers, three heats between 200-horse power Flats driven by Teddy Tetzlaff and George Hill, exhibition driving by Tetzlaff and a two-mile so between three Flat drivers not including Tetzlaff furnished the afternoon's program.

Real live competition was lacking
so far as the big machines were concerned for the reason that it was all in the family. The machines were all Flats owned by E. E. Hewlett of Los Angeles. But even at that Tetzaff's exhibition fast driving and the contests between Tetzlaff and Hill furnished as interesting spectacles as the local track has had for many a day.

There were lots of old friends of the Tetzlaff family at the track yesterday. Many of them knew Teddy as a schoolboy at Orange, where he attended the common and parochial schools.

Until Tetzlaff got into action yesterday the local track record for autos was held by Nikrent, who at one time drove a mile in 58 3-5 seconds. Tetzlaff took out the new 90-horse power Flat Cyclone, buzzed around the track until everything was running like a clock and sounding like a gigantic power-house in action, and as he passed the judge's stand his record mile began. Tetzlaff made the mile in 53 seconds.

Tetzlaff puts on all power for the first half of the straightaway. He then shuts off until he gets the turn started when he again puts on power and comes out on to the straightaway at high speed.

Tetzlaff's fast mile of 53 seconds was broken in another exhibition given by him. He drove four miles with the watches on him in 52 1-5, 54 4-5, 53 and 55 seconds.

The last event on the program was a race between Hill, Felix Magone and Dietrich, all driving Flats. Hill took the two-mile run in 2:10 2-5.
George Hill, who won the recent

San Diego road race, drove a 200-horse power Flat against Tetzlaff, also in a 200-horse power giant.
There were three heats in the contest. The first was a standing start for a mile. Tetzlaff took it in 1:14 1-5, leading Hill on the stretch by a few feet. The second heat was a two-mile go flying start. The two machines whirled around with little or no distance between them most of the time, and the final burst brought Hill in ahead in 2:03. Hill also got the third heat, standing start for one mile, in 1:08.

Aside from the Flat exhibitions,
there were two automobile events.
They were between two Studebaker cars, one a 20 and the other a 30, from Anaheim. Kincaid drove one car and Goode the other. Kincaid won the five-mile event in 5:55 1-5, and then to settle a dispute the two went out for a mile, which Goode won in 1:15 1-5.

Local motorcycle enthusiasts found a good deal to interest them in the contest for a cup offered by the management as a Teddy Tetzlaff cup.

In the heat for single-cylinder machines Rosier, Dietrich and Bunga, all riding Indian machines, contested in a two-mile race and finished in the order named with Rosier's time 2:17 3-5. The two-cylinder event brought in Lambert on an Excelsior, Knight on an Indian and Thomas on a Harley-Davidson in the order named, with Lambert's time for the two miles 2:04 2-5. The final was between Rosier, Lambert and Knight for five miles. Rosier's single-cylinder was given a handicap of 32 2-5 seconds, which proved much too much for a close finish. Rosier had a big gap to start on and finished with about one-third of it closed up by Knight. Lambert was practically out of the race in the fourth mile.
Rosier's time for the five miles was 5:30 2-5 and Knight's was 5:09 2-5.

Lester Carson and Frank Wold, Los Angeles motorcycleists, rode against each other for two miles, Carson winning in 2:02 1-5.

Before the finish of the program
many people went home, the chilly breeze causing them to desert the track for their own firesides.

AUTO WHEEL AGAINST HIM

Saturday evening a boy named Arnold had a narrow escape from being run over on West Fourth street. He and Jules Jacques were riding their bicycles west, and behind them and to the right was Attorney W. H. Thomas driving his automobile slowly. Young Arnold's bicycle wheels caught in the car tracks, and the boy was thrown out in front of Thomas' automobile. Thomas had but ten feet in which to apply the brakes and stop. The auto came to a standstill just as a front wheel came against Arnold's ribs.

HAGUE ARBITRATION NOT FAVORED BY TAFT

Believes all Europe Would Unite Against U. S. at Hague—Would Have U. S.
And England Arbitrate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—President Taft is willing to submit to arbitration the questions at issue between Great Britain and the United States over Panama Canal tolls but he does not favor arbitration by The Hague tribunal. This fact became known here last night upon the President's return from New York. Although he has not given the matter of a tribunal much thought, the President probably would prefer a special board of arbitration composed of an equal number of citizens of the United States and Great Britain. Such was to be the composition of the arbitral court he proposed when he spoke in behalf of the arbitration treaties.

HOW THE CITIES OF ORANGE COUNTY GREW IN YEAR 1912

FROM TIMES MIDWINTER NUMBER

Santa Ana, the county seat, has completed a $20,000 reservoir for storing water in connection with its fine municipal plant, the capacity of which is to be doubled immediately.

An outfall sewer connection to the ocean rids the city of a troublesome sewer problem. For laying mains in the south end of the city, the municipality spent $15,000. Twenty-two acres of land was bought for $33,000 as a site for a $200,000 polytechnic high school, for which plans have been accepted and a contract let. A new $25,000 grammar school just completed gives the city another fine educational institution. New store fronts and new buildings in the business portion of the city, and an average of one new house every day have marked building operations, which represent the expenditure of $750,000 during the year. Improved street lights, streets and an energetic city administration were features of municipal life. With the establishment of the Santa Ana Wholesale Grocery, Santa Ana got its first successful wholesale house. The Santa Ana Co-operative Sugar Company opened its sugar factory, making two sugar plants established here.

Fullerton—Second City in County
The assessed valuation of all property in Orange county shows Fullerton to be the second largest city. The official tax rolls show that it leads in increased valuation, the great oil development being largely responsible for an increase of something like $1,000,000. Fullerton has recently voted $80,000 bonds for a municipal water system; $132,000 for thirteen miles of paved streets and work is now under way on a $50,000 sewer system. A group of high school buildings are now being completed at an expense of $250,000, including the buildings and fifteen acres of grounds. Fullerton is lighted by electricity and building records show that more than 100 homes have been erected, and building permits for 1912 will total more than $300,000.

Fullerton ships annually nearly 1500 carloads of oranges; 125 carloads of walnuts; 300 cars of cabbages; 200 cars of tomatoes; 25,000 sacks of potatoes and other fruits and vegetables. The oil output averages 750,000 barrels monthly and is increasing every year. Many new wells are being drilled—some right in the city. Since Fullerton has been made the main junction point for San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino, Placentia and Chicago trains on the Santa Fe it has daily twenty-two passenger and eight freight trains. The Chamber of Commerce is taking up with the railroad the erection of a big depot and the installation of a Harvey eating-house here as the present building has been enlarged four times during the past few years. There are ten packing-houses in Fullerton. Business at the postoffice was $11,393.95 for the year ending June, 1912. Fullerton has free city delivery of mail with four rural routes. There are 1000 telephone subscribers and the assessed valuation has increased from $252,000 in 1908 to $2,665,675 in 1912, a gain of over 1000 per cent. The Fullerton-Placentia district is the home of the Valencia orange. Fruit from the Chapman groves bring the highest prices in the world. The season's pack from this district, which ended recently, is estimated at 5,760,000 boxes. The Baptist congregation is completing a new $20,000 church, and the Catholics will at once erect a new church. Plans have also been drawn for two large additions to the Fullerton hospital.

Anaheim
Anaheim, the Mother Colony, which is in the heart of the orange and walnut-growing section, is a rich, healthful and progressive city of 5000 inhabitants. The population has trebled within the past seven years, estimates based upon school census, directories and water users. The city owns its electric light plant and water system, which ranks among the best in the state. There is no city in California of the size of Anaheim that offers better educational advantages. Its rapid growth made it necessary last year to erect new and larger quarters for the local high school students, which was done at an outlay of $150,000. A group of six modern buildings now constitute the Anaheim High School. The sugar factory is located just north of town and is considered the most modern of its kind in the Southwest. It has 800-ton capacity and the company is planning to enlarge the plant to 1000-ton. Only five years ago one bank took care of the financial affairs of Anaheim and today there are four strong institutions and a building is being erected for another bank. Three have been organized during the past year. Anaheim is provided with splendid transportation facilities, being located on two transcontinental railroads, the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific.

Orange—Tustin
Achievements beyond any other year's record put Orange forward this year. Over $100,000 was spent in paving principal streets. The new $50,000 municipal water plant gives an equipment for many years to come. Bonds of $5000 voted for fire protection raised the money for an automobile fire truck. New sewers costing $60,000 were laid and an excellent city sewer system was put in operation. C. B. Campbell's $25,000 brick block was completed six months ago. To care for the year-around crops of this vicinity three new packing-houses have been built. Orange, walnut, lemon and vegetable shipments are increasing. A right of way for the Pacific Electric extension of the Los Angeles line from Santa Ana was secured.

In a year's time the business section of Tustin has more than doubled. There are a new drug store, bank, hardware store, two packing-houses, many new residences and numerous other improvements to show for twelve months of unusual growth and enterprise.

Huntington Beach
Voting municipal bonds for building a $70,000 reinforced concrete pier; the supplying of gas by the West Coast Gas Company; the building of ninety-two new homes; the improvement of the two miles of streets; a forty-five minute service on the Pacific Electric Railroad to and from Los Angeles; a $100,000 addition to the Holly sugar factory with the employment of 100 additional employees; an addition to the local grammar school providing for a third more pupils and the increase of the attendance at the school by more than that number; the spending of nearly $5000 to supply additional facilities to the local high school are some of the things done at Huntington Beach during the past year. A modern sewer system and the building of a city hall are next on the list of coming improvements. Just one year ago the population was about 1000. It is now nearly double that. Property has increased in value, and especially acreage near by is in strong demand. The tremendous output of valuable farm products in the adjacent territory explains the growth of Huntington Beach in the past year. Its beach feature is really the least of the factors which have made for its advancement. Sugar beets by the thousands of tons, celery by the hundreds of carloads, lima beans, small vegetables—all these have contributed to the fast settlement of the adjacent acreage and to the city's growth, which has been steady and permanent.

Newport and Balboa
The survey of Newport Bay by the War Department during the last year has been a goal for which the people of the beach have been striving for six years. On the recommendation of the commercial bodies of San Bernardino, Redlands, Riverside, Santa Ana, Pomona and other cities tributary to Newport harbor the War Department made the survey and the city of Newport Beach will follow up the report with an issue of $100,000 to begin the work on a jetty at the entrance of the bay. There will be ample room inside the harbor for enough commerce for years to come as the narrow channel recommended is that of the Santa Ana river, which empties into the bay, and that will be 400 feet wide. A depth of eighteen feet over the bar has also been recommended, which will allow boats of twenty-four foot draft to come in with the tide. The bay has an area of eight square miles and is completely landlocked.

So it is by Newport Bay that Newport Beach, comprising the subdivisions of West Newport, Newport, East Newport and Balboa, is best known. The place has a population of about 5000 during the summer and about 1000 during the winter, but owing to the equable climate more people are yearly making the city their home year round. The town, built on a long, narrow sand spit between the ocean and Newport Bay, is almost entirely surrounded by water. Being nearly at sea level and sheltered on the north and east by bluffs and on the southwest by Catalina Island and the ocean winds are tempered. These conditions in connection with the equalizing effect of the water on both sides of the city, give Newport a climate that is nearly the same summer and winter. Newport Beach owns its water system and has an abundant supply of clear, pure artesian water from its wells. Bonds in the sum of $25,000 were voted for the wholesale purchase of electric current and $27,000 for a new school building.

Beautiful Newport Bay, which is seen at its best at Balboa, offers great attractions. The bay is dotted with pleasure boats of every description from the stately two-mast sailboat or the romantic gondola to the noisy launch and the canoe.

Many substantial apartment-houses have been erected during the past year. Balboa is a part of the municipality of Newport Beach and has water, gas and electricity from the same plants.

The demand for property in Balboa has taken all vacant lots of the company and no real estate firm now owns any property in this part of the city; thus, it is the first subdivision to be sold out.

Increased shipments of sugar beets, poultry, eggs, vegetables and fruit show the growth of Garden Grove. With many new pumping plants installed, near-by farms are being set to oranges, lemons and walnuts. New residences are providing for an increased population.

El Modena voted $50,000 for a new schoolhouse, a contract was let and the building is now going up. Many ranches have been divided into two and three parts, making room for newcomers.

A new garage and schoolhouse, a hotel remodeled, several new houses constructed mark a year's progress at San Juan Capistrano, where the old Franciscan mission is located.

A big year in celery and a fair yield of sugar beets made Westminster, Smelter and Talbert feel their usual prosperity.

Other Places
The Los Alamitos sugar factory had a successful season, cutting beets from about 9000 acres. Hundreds of lots were sold at Laguna Beach, Sunset Beach and Bay City, mostly to Los Angeles buyers, and the summer was the busiest these beaches have ever known.

Placentia, Brea and Stanton, all under two years old, developed rapidly with new business houses and new dwellings to show excellent growth and a prosperous condition.

WASTED OPPORTUNITIES.

God is in politics. God is in government. He always has been, and He always will be. All service in the twentieth century is somehow connected with government. We are on the threshold of an age in which the teachings of Jesus are at last to get into government. What happened to the prodigal son has happened to a whole race of humanity. We have run riot in individualism, in materialism, in selfishness, until now we are reduced to the husks. We are beginning to see at last that man cannot live by bread alone. The mission of the church is to inspire. We are beginning to see that life is growth in service. The only hell that we can conceive of in this life or in the next is the spectacle of wasted opportunities.—Winston Churchill.

A FREAK OF FASHION

Few men can offer any sound criticism of women's clothes. Not one man in fifty has any conception of harmony of color or design; while by ages of struggle for physical attractiveness, at least the majority of women have a fairly good intuitive discrimination of the true and the false in form and color.

Once in a while, though, some bubble on fashion's swift and shimmering stream floats along, which tells a story of human character that even a mere man can interpret. Such an one is contained in the news dispatches cabled from Paris, saying the women are wearing rubies, opals, and emeralds on their boot heels, skirts being short to show them.

The bright colors of bird plumage are said to result from the effort to attract the male. And no doubt the Champs Elysees girl cobbles her boot heels with jewels for the same reason that the Senegambian belle wears nose rings.

How quickly a style of that kind is frowned down by American sense of humor, not to say good taste! Your shoe is the most workaday article of your clothing. Created to take the brunt of the earth's buffetings from a too tender skin and flesh, the sensible shoe is built hard and strong. Decorating it as if it were a circlet for the neck, is about as if a woman wore a hall gown in which to do the family washing.

If men were asked what style of dressing they liked best in women, they would give little favor to the elaborations of the average dressmaker. These bewilder eyes and suggest the futile extravagance of the times. From a man's point of view, nothing is so effective as a simplicity of dress that draws the attention from women's clothing to the face. If that face has the color of health and the serenity of a good temper, the mere fact that age or toil have taken away the toy symmetry, called prettiness, detracts nothing from its charm.

STOP THE SALE OF GAME!

For several years past sentiment against the sale of all wild game has been growing, but thus far it has not really crystallized into thoroughly decisive form. At last there is arising in all quarters a peremptory demand that the sale of all wild game be absolutely prohibited.

The proposal to eliminate the sale of game cannot come a moment too soon. Letters from all sections of the state now on file in the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology of the University of California indicate the alarming decrease in practically all wild game. Ducks and geese have decreased in the great interior valleys from fifty to ninety-five per cent in the last ten years.

Eminent conservationists estimate that the killing of game for the market is responsible for the disappearance of at least fifty per cent of our stock of American feathered game. Figures recently gathered indicate that 325,000 or more of the million ducks killed last year within California were slaughtered by the market gunners and the game hog who shoots for "sport" and sells his game. Residents of the San Joaquin Valley and elsewhere are short-sightedly allowing the extermination of game by market hunters for the wealthy patrons of San Francisco's highest priced cafes and hotels.

All our feathered game is rapidly slipping away from us. Are we going to save anything from the wreck? Are we justified in so managing the game situation that later on there will be no legitimate bird shooting for our children and grandchildren?

Vigorous opposition to the "no sale of game" has arisen on the ground that it is an unwarranted interference with the rights of the poor man, who, it is claimed, should have the opportunity to purchase game in the market. Strange to say, this opposition is stimulated and promoted by such representatives of the poor man as John Tait, prominent San Francisco cafe owner; Obadiah Rich, manager of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, and James Woods, manager of the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco.

A score of menus collected from the San Francisco cafes and hotels where game is dispensed show that its cost is prohibitive for the poor man, mallard duck being priced as high as $2.50.

All laws that permit the killing of game for the market, and the sale of it afterward, are class legislation of the worst sort; no more, no less. They permit a hundred men selfishly to slaughter for their own pockets, and in behalf of another hundred of the wealthiest of San Francisco's hotel and cafe patrons the game that rightfully belongs to a hundred thousand men who shoot for the legitimate recreation that such field sports afford. Will the people of California "stand for" such a manifest injustice?

The time to temporize and feel timid over the game situation has gone by. Conditions are desperate; only strong and vigorous measures will avail. Postponement of action is failure.

It is the duty of every sportsman, every nature-lover, every farmer, and every citizen to work for the passage of a law prohibiting the sale of game. A lobby has already been organized by San Francisco hotel people to oppose such a measure, but an aroused state will surely arise and demand that its wishes in this important matter be respected.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Wilson's Cabinet

President-elect Wilson is one of the most reticent men ever chosen president of the United States. When reporters try to get some news out of him about his cabinet his mouth and tongue seem to be held fast by a padlock.

It has, however, leaked out from sources close to Mr. Wilson that it is very likely that A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania will be attorney general; A. S. Burleson of Texas will be secretary of agriculture, and Josephus Daniels of North Carolina will be postmaster general. These names were obtained from what are considered by newspapers as "inspired sources," and while they are not affirmed or denied by Mr. Wilson himself they are no doubt the names he has in mind at the present time.

The South and Protection

The South, which has been sending Democratic delegations to Congress for years and years is now an important manufacturing community and it is thought that the Southern representatives will show more interest in maintaining a protective tariff than they have ever done since the war. The South is now literally covered with manufacturing establishments and feels the need of protection the same as the manufacturing industries of the Central and New England states do.

Financial Legislation

Serious attention will be given to financial legislation also in the near future.

It is clearly evident that the finances of this country, while good and sound, are not on a scientific basis. The fact of it is that the country does not possess an adequate supply of money with which to conduct the vast business we carry on. In the days of Clay, Calhoun and Webster the leading financiers as well as those great senators reached the conclusion that there should be about one dollar ($1) for every thirty dollars ($30) worth of property, and as this country now possesses about one hundred and fifty billion dollars worth of property there should be five billion dollars circulating medium, while we only have a trifle over three billion dollars in circulation, and consequently only thirty-five dollars per capita, when we should have $50 per capita.

We have had a great deal of talk about there being an abundance of money in the country, and it is true that there is a large aggregate amount of money in a few hands, but there is not enough money for the transacting of the business of the country to keep it up to that flourishing state of prosperity which is within our reach. Every autumn when the time of "moving the crops" arrives the demands for money with which to move them is so great and the tension so strenuous that it almost snaps at times, (and did in 1907), so this one fact alone proves that there should be an enlargement of the volume of the country's money.

France an Example

France is the most prosperous of any country in Europe, or in the world except the United States, and France has a larger circulation per capita than any country in the world. France has a circulation of over forty dollars per capita and France has never been known to have a panic in times of peace. The subject of finance presents a great opportunity for ambitious statesmen in Washington as they have given very meagre attention to this great subject.

What's a Friend?

Appropos of gratitude, a prominent politician gave the other day a very amusing definition of a friend. "A friend," he said, is a man who takes your part against all your enemies, sticks to you through all your adversities, lends you his last dollar without security—and then, when fortune smiles on you at last, is content to take a back seat and keep out of the way."

WHAT A BLIND BOY SAW IN A VISION

In a Christmas story entitled "Ask And It Shall Be Given," in the December American Magazine, Tom, a blind boy, prays for sight and an angel from heaven grants him the greatest gift of all—the gift to see even into the hearts of men. The author goes on:

"But this is what Tom saw in his father's heart: a little bowed, wrinkled old man, bending almost double with the weight of an enormous number of bags upon his back. The bags were of all sizes, large and small. He was panting hard with the struggle to carry them; yet, as Tom looked at him, he turned his face to the child and smiled. There was something so brave, so valiant, so superhuman in his smile that a lump came into Tom's throat."

"Then ghost-voices passed between Tom and the shriveled old man; and they bore this conversation which human ears could not hear:

"Are you really my father?"

"Yes."

"What makes you carry all those sacks?"

"Because I want to."

"What is in them?"

"Sacrifices."

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, responsibilities, duties, obligations."

"Did you always carry them?"

"No. First when the angels gave me your mother. Then when the angels gave me you."

"They are heavy, and they weigh you down. They make you old, and shriveled, and bent before your time. They make you work hundreds of times as hard. Yet you smile as you carry those sacks. . . Why?"

"Because they are sacrifices for the ones I love."

"And with his wonderful smile the bowed man kept gazing lovingly at Tom until Tom's eyes filled with tears and he turned away. He dared not look longer upon that burden of sacks for fear he should begin sobbing, burst out, and reveal something of his secret. He knew now what the Angel of Christmas had given him; and it made him exceedingly sad."

"Then Tom turned towards his mother."

"Another strange picture he saw. He saw a young woman standing half-way up the slope of a steep hill. In each of her hands she had a heavy sack, but she would not drop these. About each ankle was strapped a heavy weight. On her back were all the sacks she could possibly bear. She seemed so weary that Tom did not see how she would be able to continue; yet when he looked at her, she turned her face toward him and smiled. It was a smile as inscrutable as the one he had seen on the face of the angel."

"Then the ghost-voices passed between Tom and his mother."

"Are you really my mother?"

"Yes, dear."

"What are those weights in your hands and on your ankles?"

"They are drudgeries."

"Why don't you drop them?"

"Because of you and your father."

"Look at the millions of tiny sacks upon your back! What are they? Father didn't have nearly so many."

"But his were just as heavy"—she smiled. "These are the numberless little sacrifices that only a woman knows about."

"Did you always have them?"

"They came when love came. They are sacrifices for the ones I love. . . for you, Tom, and your father."

Average Amount of Sleep

Usually the amount of sleep is in inverse ratio to the strength and development of consciousness. Thus children need more sleep than adults. Some men need very little rest and the same may be said of women. However, eight hours is the average amount required by the human body to restore its vitality by complete rest.

If less is taken one's health is apt to be impaired. A good night's sleep will do more toward building up general health than all the tonics known.

Preserved Quinces

Wipe the fruit and pare and cut out quarters. Be sure and cut out all hard parts of core. Put all seeds, cores and parings into kettle, cover with cold water and simmer until they are cooked so the goodness is all in the water. Strain them out to throw away and use the water for your syrup. Weigh the fruit and use pound for pound. Put the sugar with your syrup, and put the quinces in a steamer and steam until they are about half cooked, then put them in your syrup and cook until dark garnet.

Overconfidence

"Your opponent says he can win in a walk," said the campaigner. "Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "let us encourage that idea. If we can persuade him to hold himself down to a walk, maybe I can get up a burst of speed that will beat him."

THE POLAR DASH
A PLEASURE TRIP

But Amundsen's Story Does Not Bear Out Statement.

SCOTT'S RELIEF SHIP OFF.

Englishmen, Beaten to Antarctic Prize by Sturdy Norseman, Will Be Brought Back Soon, and Amundsen Tells of His Work South.

When Captain Scott's antarctic ship, the Terra Nova, left Christchurch, New Zealand, on Dec. 13 last it was with the calculation of reaching Scott's base, at Cape Evans, in the second week in January. She will relieve the expedition which has been engaged in an attempt to reach the south pole. Captain Scott will doubtless bring back some absorbing stories of peril and hardship, though Captain Amundsen, the discoverer of the pole, declares his historical dash to the goal to have been a pleasure trip. "We all enjoyed it," he said, "but the world knows it was no picnic."

Captain Amundsen will at the termination of his lecture tour, which will include six months in the United States, turn again to the strenuous work he calls "business life." "The Fram," he said will then be at San Francisco. Perhaps it will be able to add to its varied experiences by going through the Panama canal.

"We start from San Francisco in June, 1914, and hope to get into the ice at the Bering strait in September. Then we shall drift perhaps for four, perhaps for five, years. It depends very much on how far we get into the ice the first year. We shall emerge when the time comes between Spitzbergen and Greenland."

No Aeroplane, No Wireless.

There is an immense lot of work to be done in these latitudes—purely scientific work—in sounding and dredging and meteorological observations. No! I do not propose to take an aeroplane with me," said the captain decidedly, "and, though I have been offered the gift of a wireless installation for the Fram, that also I have declined. I don't care for it. It is very much better to be without news when you cannot be where the news comes from. We are always more contented if we get no news."

The difficulty is to get Captain Amundsen to talk about his own attainments. He will not admit that the wonderful feat of reaching the south pole calls for extravagant praise or enthusiasm. "I never had any doubt but that we should reach the pole," he said recently, "even when we encountered the great blizzard which we had to fight for three days."

"I attribute my success to the men and the equipment. They were both perfect, and as part of the equipment I would put first the dogs. The dogs were splendid. We could never have attained the pole but for our brave dogs. We started on the journey to the pole with fifty-two. We brought back to the Fram only eleven."

Regrets Slaughter of Dogs.

"What touched us most keenly on the whole journey," said Captain Amundsen, "was the unavoidable slaughter of the animals, which had shared our dangers and had done such splendid work. The killing of them went to the heart of every one, but in polar explorations such things must be. It was a regrettable necessity, and the only thing that soothed our feelings was that the survivors enjoyed eating their comrades quite as much as we did."

"Crossing the crevasses skis were of the greatest assistance to us. We should never have got forward so well if we had not all been good ski runners. I had never driven a dog team before, but of course Johannsen and Hansen were experts at it, and we all very soon got into the knack of it."

"You are equally familiar with arctic and antarctic exploration. What are the main differences between them and the problems they present?" he was asked.

"They are entirely different," said Captain Amundsen. "In the arctic there is only drifting ice, no solid land; at the south it is ascending to the high plateau that is the chief difficulty. I should say without hesitation that traveling in the far north is much more difficult than in the far south for that reason alone."

Always Enough to Eat.

"I had no doubt that the plateau was an ideal place for sledging when I first saw it, and so it proved to be. Apart from the blizzard the weather was quite good. Only during those three days did we suffer any hardship. At other times it was not particularly cold."

"And we always had enough—if one could ever have enough in that climate—to eat. In fact, we actually increased our rations after we left the pole, because we knew we should make more rapid progress on the way back and we had many depots on which to depend."

"There is very little doubt, I think, that King Edward's Land is connected with the mainland. We saw land in places which were then a blank on the map, and the geological specimens from the plateau are identical with those from King Edward's Land. I believe there is land from there right up to the pole and beyond."

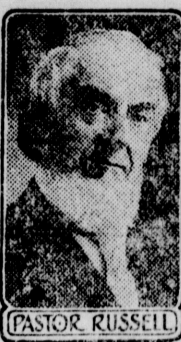

Assured of Fresh Fish

Copenhagen has a model fish market, built by the municipality. With the exception of the larger varieties, like cod and halibut, all the fish are kept alive in tanks filled with running water. There is no other town where all the fish, whether cheap or dear, are so beautifully fresh.

MESSIAH'S GLORY
IS DRAWING NIGH

The Signs Announce the Signs of His Presence.

Pastor Russell at Washington Temple. The Beginning of His Pastorate. Texts For Three Discourses Found on the Front of the Union Depot. The Message of the Hour—Not the Burning of the World, but the Rolling Away of the Curse and the Uplift of Humanity Will Result From Messiah's Kingdom.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Washington, D.C., Jan. 5.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn last week accepted a call from the Washington Temple Congregation, New York Avenue and Thirtieth Street. After some appropriate remarks re Washington as the only center of influence superior to Brooklyn and on an equality with London, he took for his text one of the three Bible quotations found over the portals of our Union Depot: "Thou hast put all things under him."

—Psalm viii, 6.

Pastor Russell declared this text specially appropriate for a great public building reared in the dawn of the glorious Age of Messiah's Kingdom. Although optimistic respecting the grand outcome of the Creator's Plan, Pastor Russell fully believed the Bible to teach that, preceding the sunrise of the New Age, there would be a dark hour of awful trouble, which is almost upon us.

He reminded his hearers that the old view now gradually fading from us is that Messiah, instead of coming a second time and setting up His Kingdom, delegated authority to His followers, one of whom should be spiritual king of the world and entitled Pope. Under this mistaken notion, well-meaning men have declared that if the hierarchy of Christ were authorized to reign, it should use the secular arm of power to compel all to acknowledge the papal throne as God's Throne, on earth. It is still claimed that each Pope in turn is Christ's viceregent.

Napoleon broke this spell when he took the Pope a prisoner to France. The world since then has doubted the viceregency and has held that if the Lord's Kingdom were in the earth, Divine Power would have upheld it, and no dissonance or ignominy would have been permitted.

The Bible Much Neglected.

The creeds have been revered, while the Bible has been neglected under the superstition that the creeds presented the Bible teaching in a simpler form. The rejection of the creeds has meant also the rejection of the Bible. The colleges of Christendom are turning out unbelievers. The horrible consequences will soon be manifest in the overwhelming of our social structure in anarchy. Thank God, that will be the opportune moment when Messiah will take the reins of government, to bless, to uplift!

Man a Little Lower Than Angels.

The Psalmist, considering the heavens as God's handiwork, was amazed that He should promise to deliver fallen man. He recites the glory and honor in which Adam was created—the head of all earthly things, in the likeness of God, a little lower than the angels."

St. Paul quoted the prophecy and applied it in Hebrews ii, 6-18. The Logos was made flesh like the first Adam, "that He by the grace of God might taste death for every man." The work of delivering the world from the power of sin and death had not followed more quickly the work of Calvary because, in the Divine Program, Christ must first lead forth a "rebel" number of sons to glory. With the completion of their number will come the glorious time when the curse shall be rolled away and blessings come instead.

The Sanctifier and the Sanctified.

The word sanctified, the Pastor explained, carries the thought of being set apart to some special service. As the Lord Jesus sacrificed His every earthly interest to do the Father's will, so must all who would sit with Him in His Throne. St. Paul declares that the Sanctifier and the sanctified ones are all one—He the Head and they the Body members.

Then the Divine Program will carry blessings to all the families of the earth, redeemed with the precious blood of Jesus. These will partake of flesh and blood, therefore the Redeemer became partaker of the same, but He might not only redeem them, but destroy death and the destroyer. He will liberate the slaves of sin and death, roll away the Curse, and open the prison-house of the tomb. Thus all will have fullest opportunity of returning to the image of God, Divine fellowship and life everlasting.

All Things Put Under Him.

The world will be officially turned over to Messiah at His Second Advent: "Ask of Me, and I will give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession." By the exercise of Divine Power Satan will be restrained and ultimately destroyed. Then the perfect earth will be delivered over to God, as St. Paul points out in I Corinthians xv, 25-28.

CIVICS CLUB MEETING

Women Considered Matters of Import—Will Have Solons Explain New Bills

A most interesting session of the Civics Club was held in the city hall Saturday afternoon. Owing to illness some of the program committee were absent. A variety of subjects were discussed which included food and milk inspection; general clean-up, and the weed ordinance, none of which has been treated satisfactorily in the past. The club voted to send a written request to the city council for information as to the manner in which results can best be secured. Mrs. W. B. Tedford read an interesting article entitled "A City Plan," and also gave an encouraging report on the Athenian Pledge that is being placed in the public schools throughout the county. R. J. Hamilton, County Y. M. C. A. Secretary, is ably assisting the ladies in this work.

Mrs. Lawton gave an interesting talk on the plans recently taken up by the housing committee in Los Angeles. A new corporation has been formed for the purpose of building cheap, comfortable and sanitary houses and apartments to accommodate the masses of people weekly coming into that city.

Mrs. S. M. Davis told how successful the State of Iowa has been in putting in force the Abatement law, to get rid of licensed crime and kindred evils.

The next meeting of the Civics club will doubtless be a special one as the program committee is desirous of having many of the new bills explained and will have Senator Anderson and Assemblyman Weisel present, to enlighten the club. Attention was called to the all day meeting to be held Wednesday at the Armory to complete the organization of the County Federation of Clubs. The Woman's Club of Santa Ana will provide tea and coffee, and each club member will take a lunch.

Visitors From Ontario
Mr. D. A. Smith and family enjoyed the kindly hospitality of their cousin, Aleck McGilivray during last Saturday and Sunday.

The party, which also included Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Lewis, came in their auto from their home in Ontario, and expressed surprise at seeing the growth of this city made in the last three years.

Intermediate Social
A jolly event taking place recently was an intermediate social at the home of the leader of this department of the United Presbyterian Sunday school, W. J. Lindsay. Mr. Lindsay had invited the members of the intermediate class to take a hay ride to Santiago canyon, but a wind storm rendered the trip out of the question, and the next best thing was the happy event at the Lindsay home, both Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay joining in and leading the merriment. Music galore, both vocal and instrumental, and lively games kept everybody interested, and at half past ten a delectable oyster supper, steaming hot, was enjoyed by the thirty-five young people present.

Benefit Tea for Guild
Mrs. George Balderston has arranged for a short, interesting program to be given at the tea to be given at her home, 221 South Main, next Wednesday afternoon, for the benefit of the Guild Hall fund. Light refreshments will also be served. The public is invited to attend.

The demand for organists is an ever increasing one. We cannot understand why more music students do not take up the study of this noble instrument.

PLAN EXECUTIVE MEETING

White Ribboners Arrange Program for Quarterly Meet at Garden Grove, Feb. 4

The Orange county executive board of the W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon at the home of the county vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, to make arrangements and plan a program for the quarterly executive meeting which will be held in Garden Grove the first Tuesday in February.

A good program has been planned. Mr. R. J. Hamilton, county Y. M. C. A. secretary, will give an address on the County Triangle League. "A Trip to Portland" will be given by Mrs. D. Gervase of Anaheim, who attended the National W. C. T. U. convention at Portland. Special music and other interesting things will be included in the program.

The following members of the board were present: President, Mrs. Viola Norman; Vice President, Mrs. W. B. Tedford; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Kellogg; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Lea Warren; Treasurer, Mrs. Frances Paine; Y. P. B. Secretary, Mrs. Anna Hill.

Michigan Picnic
The prevailing cold snap has not discouraged the Michiganans as to their proposed picnic tomorrow. The management announces that the affair will come off, heat or cold, rain or shine.

If the weather is still chilly tomorrow, the reunion will be held in t/ vacant store room in the Parsons and McNaught building instead of Elch Park as planned. But if fair weather prevails the out of door plan will be adhered to.

The Parsons and McNaught building is located at 416 West Fourth street. It will be comfortable for the occasion if the Michigananders are forced to go inside. Hot coffee will be furnished by the management for the basket dinner.

Veteran Rebekahs
The Veteran Rebekahs met with Mrs. J. W. Mitchell on Friday and had a pleasant afternoon, chat and fancy work with dainty refreshments occupying the hours.

The Veteran Rebekahs' Association of Southern California has recently furnished a room for old ladies at the Odd Fellows Home at Los Gatos and the local Rebekahs are proud of the work.

Whist Club Meeting

Miss Verna Peterson was hostess at a recent meeting of a lately organized whist club. Refreshments were served after the games. Those enjoying the evening were Misses Lena and Hazel Thomas, Agnes Yoch, Florence Mullinix, Ethel Roper, Minnie Gardner, Marvel Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson; Messrs. Carden, Walbridge, Gardner, Marple, Ross.

Entertained at Fullerton
Miss Syfert, sister of Mrs. John Beatty, was hostess yesterday at a four course dinner at her home in Fullerton, her guests being her brother-in-law and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty; Miss Irene Beatty, and the clerical force from the Crookshank-Beatty dry goods store of Santa Ana.

Music was a much enjoyed feature of the afternoon and a visit to the Fullerton school buildings was most entertaining. There are ten buildings in the school house group and they are most beautiful. Fullerton may be justly proud of her school houses, was the verdict of the visitors.

Miss Syfert's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Beatty, Miss Irene Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. White, Miss Hall, Miss Purson, Miss Morgan, Miss Trescott, Miss Hahn, Mrs. Varley and Mrs. Cackler. Assisting Miss Syfert in entertaining were Miss Wood and Miss Smith who are spending the winter in California.

nursery stock around Orange failed to show any damage.

The series of north winds that have occurred in Southern California have done considerable damage to oranges and lemons and to the trees. Some people have mistaken evidences of wind damage for frost damage. This valley has suffered less than any locality in Southern California from wind. It has gotten on far better than any locality so far as damage from cold is concerned.

California Poultry Wins Out in Madison Square Garden Show

Los Angeles Tribune: J. C. Williams of the real estate firm of the Williams Bros. Co. of this city has just received a telegram from New York City stating that his exhibit there of S. C. Brown Leghorns at the great "Madison Square Garden show" had about cleaned the deck.

For about a quarter of a century the greatest aggregation of fine specimens of the feathered tribe has gathered at the historical Madison Square Garden, and a winning there is considered the highest award on record. This year the entry is reported to be the largest ever held in New York City, and competition the keenest ever seen.

Mr. Williams won first and third cock, first cockerel, second pen, second pullet and fourth pen on his S. C. Brown Leghorns. It is the first time any breeder west of Chicago has even won a first prize on Leghorns at Madison Square Garden, and the winning is considered most phenomenal when the distance that the birds had to be shipped is taken into consideration, and the further fact that no attendant accompanied the shipment.

This places California-bred Leghorns in the very front rank without any possibility of contradiction. Mr. Williams has previously won on his Leghorns at the Pan-American exposition, St. Louis exposition; also at Chicago and Kansas City.

NORTH MAIN STREET RESIDENT DIED OF APOPLEXY SUDDENLY

Howard C. Nelson, a retired capitalist, died this morning about 10 o'clock as the result of apoplexy with which he was stricken at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Nelson and his wife came here from Georgetown, Ky., about five years ago, and soon afterward bought the home at 1857 North Main street, where they have since lived. By his genial manner, Mr. Nelson made many friends here. He was interested in a number of business enterprises here, and still has extensive interests at Georgetown. He leaves no children.

Drives Off A Terror

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George A. Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50 cts. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.—Advertisement.

To ladies attending the cooling classes this week at Southern Counties Gas Co. office, Miss Gardner will show absolutely new dishes made from Sperry products. Do not fail to attend.

SANTA ANA THE HOME OF AMERICAN ATHLETES

Al G. Waddell, a pink sheet writer of the Los Angeles Times, had the following in the Times yesterday.

"The little city of Santa Ana has very probably turned out more great athletes than any town of equal size in the world.

"Not in any one particular line, do the Santa Ana products excel, but in practically every branch of sport.

"A goodly majority of the stars of the athletic world who claim Santa Ana as their home town, made their first appearance as athletes while students at the Santa Ana High School.

"Many of the most prominent high school champions did not continue athletic work after leaving the institution, but some of the greatest student heroes whose names are carved high up on the totem poles of inter-collegiate fame, are graduates of Santa Ana High.

"Walter Johnson, the great pitcher of the American League, started his baseball career as a bush slasher on a Santa Ana team.

"Gavy Cravath, now with the Phillies, played on the high school team and later on the town team, before going into the professional ranks.

"George Horine, the Stanford boy who holds the world's record for the high jump, was a member of the Santa Ana High School track team during his prep school days.

"Fred Kelly, the Olympic champion, now at U.S.C., is from Orange, but the people of Santa Ana are as proud of him as if he were one of that city's products.

"Rick Templeton is another Santa Ana boy, who is a track star, Templeton is registered at Stanford and is expected to do great things on the track this season. Last year he was not eligible, but trained with the squad and is said to be in excellent condition for this year.

"Two years ago this lad tied Kelly for the interscholastic championship of the coast. His event at that time was the high hurdles and Kelly's was the low.

"Marshall Ramsey is another star track man for the high school.

"Jim and Bill Smart, two of Occidental's greatest football men; Bruce Dill, who starred on the Tiger eleven this season; Du Bois and Arthur Collins, the former Occidental varsity captain, are all Santa Ana High graduates.

"Pomona College has had a number of stars from Santa Ana. Bob and Bill Spurgeon were two of the greatest all-around athletes in the state a few seasons back; Hal Youngman, Ed. McFadden, Walter Reeves and Capt. Arthur Lutz of this year's football squad all came from that place.

"Gar, Ross, who was one of the leading athletes at Occidental for two seasons, making baseball, football and track teams and later going to Michigan and making his letter, came from Santa Ana High. The Northcross brothers, who played on the Oxy eleven in 1905, were also from there.

"Walter Eaton, who came out with the Colorado School of Mines eleven this season, played tackle on the Santa Ana High team for three years before going to college.

"There are many others, but a few of the best known are all there is room for here."

Booster Tells of His Trip From the East

Los Angeles, Jan. 2, 1913.

Prior to the events fading from memory's page, I'd like to resume the homeward journey and tell you some more about the things I saw.

Near Albion we cross the Pecos river on a steel bridge, 325 feet in height, and having a single span 2000 feet long. The prayer I offered up as we were snail's-pacing it across this flimsy spider-web-looking structure possibly had more reference to an insurance policy than a future abiding place. It was early morning when we arrived at Fort Hancock, and the boys in khaki were turning out to the call of "reveille." I imagine the life of a soldier boy in one of these frontier forts is not altogether one merry round of pleasure. There must be discipline, and guard duty, and fatigue, and tomorrow some more of the same. Around Houston there is a very rich looking and prosperous appearing section, but so far as can be seen from the car window this tells it all. We traverse hundreds of miles of Texas domain and not a human habitation in sight, and I could not discover a site for a habitation. If one wanted to exile himself from his kind and kin, where no weary wanderer could discover his abode, then I recommend him to this section of the state through which we have just passed.

This is called an "express" train, but it's a misnomer. It is purely an "accommodation." It stops anywhere and everywhere, and oftentimes for the most trivial excuses. One time it halted to let a mule team cross the track. Once it stopped in front of a graveyard, and a passenger got off. A few of his friends got off, too. The "passenger" had been riding in the express. He must have been due to arrive some time before, for I noticed the mound of earth thrown up was not fresh. The sheriff told me he had started to leave the state on a "borrowed" horse, and that he had made much better time going than in coming back on this train.

At Clint, 20 miles from El Paso, we pass an apple orchard of about 100 trees. They are on the right hand side of the track—please don't overlook them. I deemed the incident of sufficient gravity to justify recording. Two miles from Del Rio we approach the banks of the Rio Grande, a dirty, sluggish stream about a thousandth part as large as the Colorado, but just as polluted with mountain erosions. Its lime-stone encasements, in many places, approach the picturesque. I am admiring that old ramshackle adobe building, with its large court-veranda running full length, in front, and the vine-covered pergola across the end, when the porter comes along and disarms me of all my visions of an ancestral adobe, by telling me it is the summer home of a Los Angeles millionaire. El Paso has a resident population of 125,000, and were it not hemmed in by the hills on the one side, and the Mexican border on the other, it might aspire to something more than a desert pueblo. However, El Paso is a very pretty town, with wide, well drained streets, and many pretty bungalows. A short distance out from El Paso, we cross the Rio Grande and enter New Mexico. I had a great disappointment in the "Rio Grande." From earliest recollections I had associated the stream with something bordering on the Mississippi, or maybe the Amazon. Instead of approaching anything even distantly related to the word "grand" it is more like a creek, or a mountain brook. At the present stage it reminds me of the gentle Santa Ana after a spring shower. In 1867 I spent some time at old Fort Union, far up toward the source of the Rio Grande, and I remember there came a deep fall of snow, four feet on the level, and the nights were cold as Greenland. Then followed a series of warm, sunshiny days, and the snow dissolved like butter between the two walls of a hot biscuit, and the "river" took on the characteristics of a torrent, tearing cross-lots through the valley, removing every obstacle found in its path. It cut a wide swath, and left a streak of desolation, and a few new-made graves.

For nearly one hundred miles north from Deming, New Mexico, we pass through as beautiful a stretch of country as the sun ever shone over. It's incomprehensible to me why the good Lord in His infinite wisdom, after having made this vast domain of rich soil, lying level and smooth as a pane of glass, and under a sun whose genial warmth induces vegetation to sprout and grow like Jonah's gourd, could have been so forgetful of the other requisite—water. With moisture a-plenty, this land of "magnificent distances" could—and would—grow enough fruit and vegetables to feed half the inhabitants of the globe.

As it is now recorded, there is nothing that looks so dead and drear as a December landscape on these bleak New Mexico plains.

I am curious: The train stops at a siding out on the desert. On the walls of a dilapidated adobe hut I read the sign, "U. S. Postoffice," and not another habitation within 20 miles. I clutch the porter and make inquiry. He says: "Back of those painted hills, and far away from the beaten haunts of the eager throng is a mining camp, and our good Uncle stops a mail train once a week to deliver them mail." How delightfully accommodating of "Uncle!"

At a station called "Stein" we cross the line into Arizona. I am laboring under a misapprehension if this place is not a misnomer, for I haven't seen an old fashioned "stine" since we left New Orleans.

It's simply scandalous the way a poor traveler has to "sting" the check book in order to leave up the necessary tips to insure decent service on a through Pullman. With a 35-cent meal—hot cakes and coffee—nothing less than 15 cents will satisfy the cravings of the laquered waiter. And as the price of the meal mounts, the tip soars proportionately.

Coming through Arizona, I noticed the ties piled along the tracks had a covering of earth. My curiosity was aroused, and as soon as I could get to the "con" I fired the inquiry at him, close range, and the reply he gave me was far from satisfactory, and I still believe he was either an ignoramus or a prevaricator. He said it was done to keep the wood from catching fire in the summer time from the sun's fierce rays.

The Southern Pacific, in making a map of the country through which it travels, has drawn almost an air-line from New Orleans to Los Angeles, but the actual line is so at variance with the one on paper that in the "Rio Diablo" country the road is so crooked I can look out of the car window and see both ends of the train. It folds up like a new fangled cork screw.

Away out on the bleak prairie, far from the ken of civilization, we pass some people traveling in canvas covered wagons—"prairie schooners" they were called in the early days, and like the rushing of a summer breeze. I go back in memory to the halcyon, care-free days of youth, when I, too, crossed 3000 miles of American waste acres with an emigrant train. How few of the present generation take time to reflect and credit to the early pioneer the blazing of the way which makes it possible for him, in this advanced age, to make the same distance in a "vestibule" or De Luxe" train, in less than four days. The undertaking today would appall the stoutest heart. Following those ox-drawn trains from a distance of almost half a century, I realize the hardships were many, not one least of which was the lotus-flower painted mirage of the "water course"—which was not. When the Utes or their kindred in crime, the Apaches, made trouble, there was no disembodied voice at the other end of the wire to receive the message that aid was needed. Let us lie on the bed of roses they have prepared for us, and be thankful.

D. W. McDANALD.

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Santa Ana Citizens

A familiar burden in many homes. The burden of "bad back." A lame, a weak or an aching back. Often tells you of Kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is Santa Ana testimony. P. G. Etchison, 820 E. St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Since using Doan's Kidney Pills in 1907, I have had little need of a kidney remedy. A dose or two on a few occasions when I have noticed pain in my back has relieved the trouble. My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills was expressed in a public testimonial I gave two and a half years ago, remaining unchanged, as I value them as highly as ever. I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint for months and if I brought any strain on my back, I was sure to suffer from backache. Knowing that this misery was due to disordered kidneys, I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store (now Wheeler & Mateer's Drug Store). They went directly to the seat of the complaint and I could not have asked for greater benefit.

OLD WAR HORSE IS SOON TO BE GIVEN MILITARY FUNERAL

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Jan. 6.—Comanche, the old horse which was the only thing of General Custer's army to escape annihilation at the hands of the Sioux Indians at the massacre of the Little Big Horn in 1876, soon is to receive a military burial beside the Custer monument, where are buried the bones of all soldiers slain in that battle.

The battlefield is just across the state line from Sheridan and, according to reports at Fort McKenzie, arrangements are being made to disinter the bones of the war horse at old Fort Lincoln and to have them reburied close to the Custer monument, where the battle took place.

Comanche was ridden in the battle by Private Miles Geogh. Two days later, when relief came, he was standing on the battlefield, head hanging, wounded in six places. At his feet was his dead master. He was the only living thing on the battlefield.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The staple market appeared to be at a standstill yesterday, although the tendency of egg prices was still upward. The egg market is likely to be affected immediately by any adverse condition, but a large advance is not expected. Weather conditions are the principal factor, and if they remain favorable an easier feeling may soon become apparent. Receipts were very light.

The butter market was firm and is likely to continue so. Advances are not expected. It should only be about six weeks or two months until a generally easier feeling in all poultry and dairy products will be felt. Cheese is a little firmer than it was a few weeks ago, but the market cannot be considered absolutely steady for a tendency to weakness is still exhibited in some varieties. None was reported in.

Sweet potatoes were steady yesterday, bringing around $1.75 to $2.00. There was no change in onions or potatoes. The former have firmed a little, but the same low prices for the latter give promise of continuing. Tomatoes are showing a stronger feeling. A shipment of pineapples is expected soon. They still continue scarce. The market was well supplied with citrus fruits, as usual. Cherimoyas received a few days ago did not move very quickly at 20 cents a pound. The fact that the fruit is not better known may have something to do with this. Apples continue plentiful.

Receipts were: Eggs, 87 cases; butter, 34,006 pounds; potatoes, 1650 sacks; onions, 1500 sacks; sweet potatoes, 25 sacks; apples, 1240 boxes.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

FORMER WIFE
AFTER $1,600

First Mrs. Rothfuss Sues Rothfuss and His Present Wife, Charging Fraud

Anna Rothfuss has brought another suit against her former husband and his present wife, Christian and Mina Rothfuss. She asks the superior court to order the arrest of Rothfuss and declare certain transactions fraudulent. The main object of the action is to get property into such shape that it can be levied upon to secure payment of a judgment of $1600 entered in Los Angeles county in favor of Anna Rothfuss.

The complaint filed here today was filed by Attorney E. D. Martindale of Los Angeles. It seems that Rothfuss has been employed in this county, which is the reason for bringing the action here.

The complaint states that Anna Rothfuss got $1600 judgment against Rothfuss. It states that Rothfuss transferred to his present wife lots and stock in a laundry company to defeat execution. The complaint wants judgment declaring these transactions fraudulent and setting them aside. It asks that judgment reaffirm the judgment of the Los Angeles court and make it binding against Rothfuss' present wife.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

DECLARES LIQUID
IS LOW PERCENTAGE

A strenuous effort is being made by Attorney Bell today to convince a jury that liquid sold to J. B. and Merle Ramsey at Brea by L. Peterson, a restaurant man, is not beer but is what is sometimes designated as temperance beer. Dr. J. M. Burlew analyzed the liquid, and he found it had five per cent alcohol in it. A Los Angeles brewery is backing Peterson, possibly for the reason that should it develop that the liquid marked "less than two per cent alcohol" proves up to have more than two per cent alcohol the brewery may run up against the Pure Food act. This is Peterson's second trial.

BONNEY CARRYING
FREIGHT AND MAIL
ON DEPERDUSSIN

LOS ANGELES, January 6.—Leonard Bonney, carrying a passenger, several parcels of freight and a bag of mail was to start on the second leg of his journey in the big Deperdussin monoplane from Pasadena this afternoon. The second stop in the aerial stage route around Southern California has been arranged at a point between Pomona and Ontario.

Bonney, who is the chief pilot of the Sloane school of aviation at Dominguez field, will remain at the second terminal for two days and then continue the aerial circuit by flying either to Redlands, San Bernardino or Riverside. It is possible that he may carry some household furniture to the next stop beyond Pomona.

It is probable that the Sloane Aeroplane company will bring another passenger-carrying monoplane to the coast in order to take care of the traffic.

J.R. KEENE ONCE SOLD
MILK IN OLD SHASTA

Founded Shasta Herald, Ran Flour Mill; Made First Wheat "Corner" on Record

REDDING, CAL., Jan. 6.—James R. Keene, who died at New York Thursday evening, once was a milk seller in the old town of Shasta, later founding the Shasta Herald, which lived two years.

Following the newspaper venture Keene started a flour mill at Millville, Shasta county, and bought in all the wheat in the county, establishing the first "corner" on wheat on record. Roads being impassable, so that flour could not be shipped into the county, Keene disposed of his holdings and cleaned up $29,000, only to lose it later in the Comstock mine. He left Shasta county in the early sixties to go to the Nevada gold regions.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN THE PRODUCTION OF PETROLEUM

There was no considerable change in the quantity of petroleum produced in the United States in 1912 compared with 1911. Nevertheless, according to David T. Day, of the United States Geological Survey, the year was full of remarkable incidents as is usual in the history of this article of commerce, which depends for its statistical position more upon the chances of new discoveries and less upon trade demands than any other commodity except gold.

As a rule, the eastern fields declined in production, because it was impossible to keep up the great output of 1911 without large additional discoveries of new pools in the older fields. The eastern decline was, however, offset by the increase in California, where the San Joaquin Valley field (Midway, McKittrick, Maricopa, etc.) are still at the height of the gusher stage.

An estimate of the production in 1912 and a comparison with the product in 1911 is given below:

Production of petroleum in the United States in 1911 and estimated production for 1912 (barrels of gallons)	1911	1912
State
California ..	81,124,391	87,000,000
Oklahoma ..	55,069,637	52,000,000
Illinois ..	31,317,038	28,000,000
Louisiana ..	10,729,420	10,000,000
W. Virginia ..	9,795,464	11,800,000
Texas ..	9,526,474	10,500,000
Ohio ..	8,817,112	8,500,000
Penn.	8,248,158	8,000,000
Indiana ..	1,635,289	1,200,000
Kansas ..	1,278,819	1,300,000
New York ..	952,515	700,000
Kentucky ..	472,458	500,000
Colorado ..	226,926	200,000
Other states	194,690	500,000
	220,449,391	220,200,000

It will take much time to calculate the amount of oil sold at the different prices of the year, but it is evident that the total value of the product increased markedly, being about $150,000,000 compared with $134,144,452 in 1911.

Stocks—in all the fields except those of California and the Gulf there was a steady drain on stocks during the year, so that from a total of 81,789,390 barrels—over a half-year's output—on January 1, the stock declined to 69,000,000 barrels at the end of the year. This drain reflects the increased capacity of the refining plants of the United States, the greatly increased exports, and a gradual change in the general condition of the industry by which gasoline has become much more in demand, so that the trade is well satisfied with heavier grades of gasoline, or naphtha. For this reason the dividing line between naphtha and kerosene has necessarily been drawn nearer to kerosene and a large quantity of oil has been distilled into the gasoline portion of the products and a less output of kerosene resulted. On the other hand, the heavy residues which are marketed as fuel oils have come into greater demand. The advent of internal-combustion engines, such as those of the Diesel type, promises still higher prices for fuel oils. The United States has been slow in the adoption of these new engines, but their general adoption abroad has pointed the way to rapid increase in their use here.

Prices.—The general decline in production except in California would doubtless have been much greater but for the effort to apply laws of supply and demand by increases in prices. Prices advanced so greatly during the year as to stimulate drilling, even in the old New York and Pennsylvania pools, and so checked the decline. Formerly this plan has not been so successful. In the Mid-Continent field also it checked the decline, so that the produce will come within 4,000,000 barrels of the maximum output (in 1910). In the Appalachian field, where higher prices and very cheap methods of pumping oil wells make the decline slow in any event, the great rise in price from $1.30 to $2 a barrel seems to have checked the normal decline and even to have effected an increase, which, though slight, was gratifying.

POET GALLIENNE TO LIVE SIMPLE LIFE

Will Give Up City Life—Wife Will Join Him in Gypsy Existence in Sunny France

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Richard Le Gallienne, the poet who wrote "The Poet With the Toward's Tongue," in reply to William Watson's "The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue," sailed yesterday for Marseilles on the steamer Canada to spend the next four months "as a hobo."

"I have given up city life for good," he said, "as I can find in nature all the dramatic contrasts of city life—the same conflict, the same tyranny, the same injustice. In flowers I find the same goodness and beauty as I do among human beings; I also find the same ugliness."

"The gypsy and the hobo have the right idea of life. Free and unconventional, they can roam at will. If men like the Goulds, Vanderbilts, Morgans and other millionaires were to follow their example they would soon obtain the rest of the soul that they cannot by expediture of their millions."

Mrs. Le Gallienne, who formerly was the wife of Roland Hinton Perry, the American sculptor, and her daughter, Gwendolyn, are going to tramp and camp by the roadside with the poet.

Mrs. Le Gallienne said that as soon as they arrive in Marseilles they will put on comfortable shoes and suitable clothing, carry knapsacks on their backs and begin a tramp of 450 miles to Paris.

HOOKWORM IN KENTUCKY

Estimated That 20,000 Cases Exist in State—In Some Schools All Pupils Are Affected

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 6.—The first report of the commission appointed under the terms of the Rockefeller fund to devise means for the eradication of the hookworm in the mountain districts of Kentucky was made here.

The report is from Breathitt county and shows that out of 1785 persons examined 1263 were affected. If that rate of infection prevails in the other mountain counties, Kentucky has 20,000 cases of hookworm, it is estimated. In some of the breathitt county schools every pupil was found to be a sufferer.

Joy of Life

To watch the corn grow, and the blossoms set; to draw hard breath over ploughshare or spade; to read, to think, to love, to hope, to pray—these are the things that make men happy; they have always had the power of doing this, they never will have power to do more. The world's prosperity or adversity depends upon our knowing and teaching these few things.—John Ruskin.

WORKERS PLAN 1913
LABOR LEGISLATION

Will Ask Congress for Many Laws to Better Working Conditions of Men and Women

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The American Association for Labor Legislation, which numbers among its achievements the law preventing the manufacture of phossy-jaw matches, expects to accomplish big things in the coming year in the way of remedial legislation on behalf of workers. The association announced its 1913 program yesterday.

Possibly the most interesting as well as the most important feature of the program is the campaign decided on to get congress to pass such laws as will prevent lead poisoning in this country.

Congress will be asked to pass laws providing for the cleanliness of workrooms and workers; for the use of hoods and exhausts to eliminate fumes and lead dust and other practical requirements. As an instance of the differences in condition between either German or British lead workers and the American lead workers, the association presents statistics which show there were two cases of poisoning among 150 employees in a German factory, whereas there were twenty-five in an American factory employing 142 men; and that with no cases in an English factory of ninety men, there were thirty-five cases in an American factory of eighty-five men.

The association will fight also for better observance of Sunday laws; for standard schedules; for a federal compensation act; for workers' compensation; for industrial hygiene and safety; for the protection of working women, and for law enforcement.

An especially hard fight will be made for the protection of working women. The association reports that sixteen states will have no limitation of working hours, while in eighteen women may work from sixty to seventy hours.

Lived 86 Years in One House

Mrs. Williams, widow of the Rev. Samuel Williams, pastor of the Congregational church in the village of Cripplegate for forty years, has died in the house in which she was born and had lived all of her eighty-six years. During this long period she has not slept away from the house more than about six times.—London Daily Mail.

Clears Kingbird's Reputation

The United States has granted a certificate of good character to the kingbird, sometimes known in the rural districts as the bee martin, a species of fly catcher which inhabits nearly every part of the United States. The kingbird has been under indictment in many sections as a destroyer of bees and a foe of apiarists. Department of agriculture experts fully exonerate the bird of being a destroyer. They say that it kills only the drones and the useless bees, and is, therefore, a boon to the bee raiser. Besides that, it preys on many harmful insects, and protects farmers' chicken yards from depredations of crows and chicken hawks, which it savagely attacks.

DRUNKENNESS CAN

One Seventh of Cases Treated by State Blamed on Heredity by Supt. Hatch

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—How the sins of the fathers are visited on their children, through inebriety, is told here in the biennial report of State Medical Superintendent Hatch. He blames heredity for one seventh of the liquor cases treated by the state. He says the total number of inebriates in state institutions is 4,844, an increase of 1,384 in two years. Six hundred and ninety-four were committed during the last year. He believes the care of inebriates in state asylums is a failure, and recommends a reformatory institution.
